...In 2001, construction of our $5.7 million Assisted living Center was completed. The design and functionality of the structure created by the team at HHS DR is first class...

...In addition to designing an outstanding, eye appealing structure, the HHS DR team had enough health care knowledge to make the structure functional, yet not institutional...

...From an Administrator's standpoint, I was thankful to have HHS DR on my side during the actual construction of the project. They assured that the project was built as designed, kept on schedule and kept within budget. Project overruns were basically non-existent. To say the project was a success would be a significant understatement...

...the professionalism, pro-active approach and cost containment approach displayed by HHS DR personnel have solidified a long lasting trusting relationship with the decision makers at John XXIII Home...

...undertaking any construction project requires a great deal of planning, patience, dedication and open honest communication between the "owner" and the architects. Based on past and current experience, I strongly recommend utilizing the services of HHS DR.
